Cherab Friendship Circle, a 501©3 Cherab Foundation project, hosts HUGE Community Birthday Parties for friendless kids across the country. Featured in local and national news, we proactively fight bullying by bringing together like-minded people, raising awareness about differences, and fostering acceptance and compassion. Volunteer-based since 2000, the Cherab Foundation has been focused on helping children with neurological and genetic communication impairments such as autism and apraxia. Donations are tax-deductible. The federal tax ID number is 22-3685234

The Cherab Foundation and the Treasure Coast community are helping celebrate a life-changing birthday party for 12-year-old Charlie. Charlie, who is autistic, suffers from loneliness due to a lack of friends. He desperately needs to know that some kids want to be his friend. Charlie's community birthday party opens the door to all that is good in life, friendship, kindness, and of course, cake! Bullying and alienation are not welcome. All are invited to the birthday festivities, which include a special live appearance by The Mets, Superheroes, Ecto Ghostbusters, first responders, bowling, games, and so much more:

Party Details:

Our anti-bullying event is already receiving national attention. With your help, we can reach our goal of hosting at least one party every month across all 50 States! We are also launching a school-based program in South Florida, with a plan to reach every district in the country. This new program will expand upon the tools we've developed to encourage acceptance and compassion within their daily school environment, where we feel the impact will be most significant.

Thank you very much for your support!
